SUMMARY

I am a highly motivated and versatile developer with hands-on experience in back-end development, UI/UX design, and database management. Proficient in multiple programming languages including Python, JavaScript, SQL, and PHP, with a strong foundation in developing and designing full-stack applications. I have demonstrated ability to deliver functional systems such as facial recognition-based attendance systems and hospital management platforms.

Experienced in working with teams to deliver client-focused solutions at LishAI Labs, where responsibilities included back-end programming, UI/UX design, and graphic design. I am passionate about leveraging technical and creative skills to build user-friendly and impactful digital solutions.
